HALFMOON BAY NEWS OF INTEREST

A McSweeney, county tax collector, announces that he will be in Halfmoon Bay on Saturday, November 4, at the Bank of Halfmoon Bay from 8 a. m. to p. m., for the purpose of collecting taxes from those who are desirous of paying, thus saving them a trip to Redwood City.

John Fannucchi of the New Columbia Hotel was in San Francisco Wednesday transacting business for his hostelry. His many friends and acquaintances the patiently waiting for the reopening of his bar, which was closed for six months by the board of supervisors at a recent meeting. The New Columbus Hotel is famous for its excellent Italian dinners, and the general impression is that the dining room has been closed also, but it is a mistaken idea. You will always find the doors open, but if you want to partake of a sumptuous dinner and desire liquors of any kind, you will have to bring said liquors with you.

Rev. A. Andriano tells us that the fair conducted by the ladies of the Catholic church was a big success, both socially and financially. The net proceeds will in all probabilities exceed the thousand dollar mark. A full and detailed report by the pastor will appear in these columns next week. Meanwhile he wishes to express his heartfelt thanks to the various committees for their splendid work and co-operation, and the general public for its most liberal patronage.

On Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday, November 29, the U. P. E. C. are going to have a big initiation and banquet, followed by a dance. The affair will be held in Cunha hall. The Halfmoon Bay orchestra will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Maderos who have been living on what is known as the Ostermann ranch for the last six years, will move to Menlo Park where Mr. Maderos has bought a big dairy.

Miss Louise Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell of Tunitas Glen, was married last Wednesday morning by Rev. Father A. Andriano to John Praeder, a prosperous farmer of that vicinity. The young couple are spending a few days in the city.

Luke Milan of San Francisco called on friends here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Clay of Burlingame (Mrs. Clay was formerly a Miss Hatch) were visiting at Miramar this week. On Thursday the Clays and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinlan and Peter Gianni and wife set out on a hunting and fishing trip to Pescadero.

WANTS AN EFFECTIVE SYSTEM OF RURAL CREDITS.

We propose to promote by every practicable means our agricultural interests, and we include in this program an effective system of rural credits. We favor the wise conservation of our natural resources. We desire not only that they shall be safeguarded, but that they shall be adequately developed and used to the utmost public advantage.—Mr. Hughes' Speech of Acceptance.

It was John P. St. John of Kansas, one time Prohibitionist candidate for president of the United States, who said that Americans vote as they cheer. If so, there is mighty little consolation for the Democratic party in this campaign, for the Democratic administration in three years has given us nothing to cheer over. On the contrary, as Mr. Hughes has said, these last three years have been years of humiliation and embarrassment.

THE NATION IS SHOCKINGLY UNPREPARED.

It is apparent that we are shockingly unprepared. There is no room for controversy on this point since the object lesson on the Mexican border. All our available regular troops (less, I believe, than 40,000) are there or in Mexico, and as these have been deemed insufficient the entire national guard has been ordered out. That is, we are summoning practically all our movable military forces in order to prevent bandit incursions. In view of the warnings of the past three years, it is inexcusable that we should find ourselves in this plight. For our faithful guardsmen, who with a fine patriotism responded to this call and are bearing this burden, I have nothing but praise. But I think it little short of absurd that we should be compelled to call men from their shops, their factories, their offices and their professions for such a purpose. This, however, is not all. The units of the national guard were at peace strength, which was only about one-half the required strength. It was necessary to bring in recruits, for the most part raw and untrained. Only a small percentage of the regiments recruited up to war strength will have had even a year's training in the national guard, which at the maximum means a hundred hours of military drill, and, on the average, means much less. Men fresh from their peaceful employments and physically unprepared have been hurried to the border for actual service. They were without proper equipment, without necessary supplies; suitable conditions of transportation were not provided. Men with dependent families were sent, and conditions which should have been well known were discovered after the event. And yet the exigency, comparatively speaking, was not a very grave one. It involved nothing that could not readily have been foreseen during the past three years of disturbance and required only a modest talent for organization. That this administration while pursuing its course in Mexico should have permitted such conditions to exist is almost incredible.—From Mr. Hughes' Speech of Acceptance.

THE END OF A USEFUL LIFE

Mrs. J. W. McDill is Laid to Rest in Graceland Cemetery

Mrs. J. W. McDill, mother of Mrs. W. H. Kelso of the city, and who resided with her daughter here up until a few years ago, died at the home of her son in Idaho recently. A Creston, Iowa paper contains the following story of her eventful life:

The funeral of Mrs. J. W. McDill, who died Monday at the home of her son in McCammon, Idaho, was held Friday afternoon from the Presbyterian church. The services were conducted by the Rev. George Korteling and the remains were interred in Graceland cemetery. The pallbearers were J. H. Patt, P. C. Winter, D. Davenport, W. W. Bradford, E. A. Lee and Paul S. Jantin.

Narcissa Fullenwider was born in Indiana October, 1835 and was still a babe in arms when her parents removed to Iowa. Her fathter, Dr. Samuel Fullenwider was a prominent figure in the early history of the territory and state of Iowa and was a member of the first general assembly of the state. In 1857 deceased was married to James W. McDill at Kossuth, Iowa, and immediately after the ceremony they left for Afton, making the trip across the country with a horse and buggy, as this was before the day of the railroad in Union county. Mr. McDill was a man of great ability and the highest character and in the little town of Afton he entered upon a career that eventually made him the most distinguished citizen whom Union county gave to public life. As judge, as representative in congress, as United States senator, as member of the interstate commission his career was a credit to the state and to his home community and in all the high offices to which he was called he gave faithful, efficient and conscitious service. In his whole public career his wife was an inspiration and an aid to him, taking a keen interest in public affairs and doing her full share to bring about the success which her husband won. In 1885 the family removed to Creston, where Judge McDill engaged in the practice of his profession and where they lived at the time of his death in 1894. During the past ten years Mrs. McDill has been in Creston only occasionally, as she traveled a great deal and made her home with the children who had removed to other states, but she always retained a deep interest in the city and county which had been her home for so many years. Mrs. McDill became a Christian in the early days of her life and at the time of her removal to Creston became identified with the Presbyterian church of this city and retained her membership in this church to the time of her death. Mr. and Mrs. McDill were the parents of six children, one of whom died in childhood and another, Mrs. Blanche McGregor, died in 1908. The surviving children are Mrs. Edith Light of Bridgeport, Neb., who was unable to attend the funeral on account of ill-health, Mrs. Kate Kelso of Redwood City, Cal., Mrs. Madge Bradford of Littleton, Co., and Dr. Wilson F. McDill of McCammon, Idaho.

Mrs. McDill was a woman of the highest worth. In all the relations of life she discharged her duties faithfully and with far more than ordinary ability. She possessed a keen mind which she retained to the last and her interest in public affairs was broad and intelligent. She was well informed, a charming hostess in the days of her social activities, an appreciative and encouraging friend and a devoted wife and mother. She came to the end of a beautiful life calmly and without fear and her relatives and friends have a rich treasury of memories of her to comfort them in their loss.

Add famous sayings of history: "I will surrender on this line if it takes all summer!"

The Democratic revenue bill, as completed, is regarded as so perfect that the chances are that the taxpayers of New York, Massachusetts and Illinois will be able to build 3,000 more miles of good roads in Alabama next year.

DEMISE OF CATHERINE RAPLEY

All that was mortal of the late Catherine Rapley an old resident of the county was laid to rest in Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park yesterday. She died on Wednesday following a short illness caused by an attack of pneumonia. Her husband is very low in the Redwood City hospital and may not survive his wife very long. Yesterday morning a requiem mass was celebrated in Mount Carmel church for the repose of her soul. A large number of old pioneers who knew the deceased for forty years or over were in attendance. A large cortege followed the remains to their last resting place. Mrs. Rapley came to Redwood City 54 years ago and four years later was married to Mr. Rapley. A few years later the couple moved to a ranch near La Honda where they lived until 1915 when they came to Redwood City to spend their remaining years at the place where they began life's career. The deceased was an estimable woman, ever-ready to help those in distress and to assist the needy. The following acted as pall bearers: P. P. Chamberlain, Judge James Hannon, Cornelius Cullen, H. Eikerenkotter, W. Rapley and J. Rapley. Besides her husband the deceased is survived by two sons, James and Maurice Rapley and Mrs. Albert Eikerenkoter of San Mateo.

F. T. RAPP AWARDED DAMAGES

Francis T. Rapp, probation officer of San Mateo county, was awarded $454 damages against William Fields, Stanford student and member of a wealthy San Jose family Tuesday by Superior Judge Buck, as the outcome of an automobile accident a year ago on the State highway near San Bruno, when Field's machine wrecked Rapp's car. The jury which yesterday awarded Rapp damages included five women, one of whom, Mrs. Henry C. Finkler, was foreman.

INDICTED BY THE GRAND JURY

George E. Jones, former city marshal and ex-officio tax collector of the City of Burlingame has been indicted by the grand jury. The indictment was returned by the jury on Wednesday. Jones is charged with the embezzlement of public funds belonging to the City of Burlingame.

ADDITIONAL COURT NOTES

The civil suit entitled Charles H. Trolliet against Joseph J. McMullen, and others was dismissed in the superior court yesterday. The notice of dismissal was filed in the county clerk's office late this afternoon.

DIVORCE SUITS —

Stella Locke has brought proceedings in the superior court against her husband, Miller H. Locke, for a divorce on statutory grounds.

Gertrude H. Bowes has also begun divorce proceedings against her husband, James F. Bowes, in similar grounds.

DAMAGE RECOVERED—

Judge Lamb decided the case of Podjarky vs. Mrs. Elizabeth Bakewell of Burlingame in favor of the defendant. The plaintiff sued to recover $299 alleging that his horse was negligently killed on the pasture of the defendant, but the evidence seemed to indicate that the plaintiff himself was negligent. Attorney Dowd appeared for the plaintiff and Jas. T. O'Keefe of this city appeared for the defendant.

FORECLOSURE—

John Costa has brought foreclosure proceedings in the superior court against Francis B. Jamieson to recover the sum of $246, interest, costs of suit and attorney fees in the sum of $70. The property on which the mortgage is to be foreclosed consists of lots 12 and 13 block 7 Arleta Park.

JURY DISAGREES—

The civil suit of the First National Bank of San Mateo against St. John Whitney was tried before a jury in the superior court on Thursday. The jury after deliberating for nearly three hours could not come to an agreement and were dismissed by Judge Buck. It stood 8 to 4 in favor of the plaintiff, just lacking one vote of a verdict. The bank brought suit to recover $3,000 on a promissory note executed by defendant on September 13, 1915. The defendant claimed that on the next day after the execution of the note he drew a check for the amount in favorof W. M. Roberts, then cashier of the bank. Roberts some time afterwards was sent to prison for embezzling funds of the institution. Plaintiff holds that the note never was paid. Ross and Ross and W. H. Linforth appeared for the bank, of which Hall C. Ross is president and E. C. Harrison and N. A. Eisner represented defendant.

MR. WILSON TOOK PLEASURE IN EXTENDING THE HAND OF WELCOME TO CARRANZA.

One of these "uncivilized" acts was committed on September 29th, when some of Carranza's soldiers captured an American trooper, killed him and cut off his head and ears. Exactly twenty days later, on October 19th, Mr. Wilson expressed "pleasure" in informing Carranza that he recognized him! Since the recognition, Carranza's troops by his orders have treacherously attacked and murdered American soldiers on at least two occasions. If the acts above recited —which are merely samples of the course of conduct Carranza has already pursued—do not constitute "intrigue and assassination, treachery and violence," then the words have lost their meaning. Mr. Wilson took "pleasure" in "extending the hand of welcome" to Carranza, whose own hand is red with the blood of murdered men and women of his own nation, and whose hands, unlike the hands of Huerta, were also red with the blood of murdered Americans, of murdered American civilians, and of murdered American soldiers wearing the American uniform. But President Wilson cared as little for the deaths of these men as he cared for the honor of the uniform. He with "pleasure" "extended the hand of welcome" to the man guilty of their murder. —From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

What Josepfifleous Daniels, the well known nautical militarist, can't understand is why men should waste time Plattsburging at sea when they might just as well learn how to become sailors in three lessons in any good, reliable correspondence school.

MAYOR OF SEATTLE CHANGE OF FAITH

(Los Angeles Tribune)

(Washington is under statutory prohibition. The law was adopted by the vote of the people under the initiative at the general election November 3, 1914, and went into effect January 1, 1916. The law was adopted by a majority of 18,032, the number of votes cast for the measure being 189,840, while the number of votes cast against the measure was 171,208. When this law went into effect it closed 1100 saloons 24 breweries and one distillery.

As for the actual effect of the law here, from my own observation (and I voted wet) I can only say that in my opinion it has been splendidly beneficial in every possible respect to everybody with the exception of certain owners of property who have unquestionably been affected.

This city had a limit of 315 saloons and had had that limit for some ten years. It was the policy of the city to renew the licenses only in the particular locations, and this policy, of course, gave a greatly enchanced value to certain premises. The owners of these premises collected rent based not upon the actual value of the property, but upon the value of a saloon right. They are now compelled to accept rental on the same basis as do other property owners who did not have the saloon privilege, and it has undoubtedly in certain sections of the city caused a reduction in rental values, although this is not true by any means in all parts of the city. Almost without exception all of the former saloon locations are now occupied by people in other lines of trade; probably 20 per cent of the locations were turned into soft drink places, pool rooms, etc., and the others are occupied by businesses of all sorts. Rental values in the residence districts of the city are higher in my opinion than they were a year ago and while there is but little real estate movement, there is more than there was a year ago.

Generally, merchants state that business is better, that bills are paid and that business is constantly increasing, and it is becoming known that the effect of the act is beneficial rather than disastrous as many had anticipated.

As to arrests and crime, while I have not the complete figures before me, the police court arrests run about 50 per cent of what they did a year ago, but of those arrests now occurring a great number are for attempted violations of the liquor law. There are ,of course a constantly increasing number of automobile traffic regulations, which keep up the increase of arrests, but the ordinary police court cases in my opinion do not exceed 25 per cent of what they were prior to January 1.

The bank deposits of the city have increased between January 1 and June 30 a little over $5,000,000, and continue to increase. Our building permits show a steady increase month by month of at least 50 per cent over last year during the same period and are constantly increasing. For the first time in some years there is employment for everybody who wants to work and the general conditions of the city and of the entire state are better than they have been in many things for years.

While this is, of course, not all due to the dry law, in my opinion it is largely so. It has gotten rid of that class of laboring men who did just enough work to keep themselves going and to support the existing saloons. I think your state and the state of Montana have got most of them.

Experience has shown here that 95 per cent of the liquor evil was in the saloon, and it being gone the rest is of easy solution, and as one who, as I said above, voted wet, and who has now seen the effects of the law, I can see no possible chance of this city at least ever voting wet again. I believe that the next election will demonstrate in this city that at least 80 per cent are dry although it voted wet by 15,000 majority.

H. C. GILL, Mayor.

CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY

John D. Willard, the Republican nominee for the Assembly, will receive the united support of all Republicans, and the vote of all good citizens of every party who want to have our county represented in the State legislature by a man in every way quilified as a law-maker.

Willard won the Republican nomination by a surprisingly large vote over his two opponents, in a fair contest. He is now entitled as a matter or right and because of his superior ability to the unanimous support of all Republicans. He is being opposed by a candidate whom he defeated at the primary election, Democratic ticket on account of his having received a few scattering Democratic votes.

Willard's ability and fitness for the office he seeks is admitted by all. His character is above reproach. It rarely happens that a man is available who is as well qualified as he is for the work which he will be called on to do in the state legislature.

In order to injure his candidacy with the voters, various falsehoods are being manufactured out of whole cloth and given wide circulation.

Voters are cautioned against believing rumors and reports, savoring of dirty politics, which are sent out broad cast for the damage they may do before they can be successfully counter-acted.

No one who knows Mr. Willard, or who will take the trouble to learn the truth, need be deceived by those who would defeat him by any means whether fair or foul.

Willard is clean cut, and a young man of ability, moral worth and strength of character. He possesses ability, sound judgment and a splendid legal knowledge, and these qualities are certain to make his influence felt at Sacramento next winter.

SEEK PROGRESSIVE AND LABOR VOTES ON FALSE CLAIMS

Democrats Posing as the Enactors of Legislation Which the Indisputable Facts Show to Be of Republican Origin.

AUTHORITY ON SOUND SOCIAL LAW CITES 11 GLARING CASES

Organized Labor Resents This Deception and Running True to Form Will In November as at Many Previous Elections Indignantly Smite Those Who Without Justice Lay Claim to Its Gratitude—Even the Much Touted Federal Reserve Law Is Based Entirely on the Statistical Research of a Republican Administration.

That "No class is more instant than labor to condemn and punish those who without foundation lay claim to its gratitude" is the assertion of John Williams, ex-commissioner of labor, apropos of certain false claims set forth by Vance McCormick, Democratic national chairman, in behalf of his party.

Chairman McCormick caused to be published in the New York Times, on July 31, an appeal for Progressive and Labor support, based on "twenty measures enacted by congress while President Wilson has been in the White House," and for which he claims credit for the Wilson administration and asks Progressive approbation. Commenting on this statement, the former commissioner of labor says:

"Students and promoters of sound social legislation will do well to examine this list, for it contains a number of items of unusual interest.

"We may well believe that it was with a great deal of pride that Mr. McCormick contemplated the record of his party and that he drew a vivid mental picture of Progressives flocking to the support of Mr. Wilson because of the things claimed on behalf of this administration.

"It is a pity that in the interest of truth, which knows neither Democrat, Progressive nor Republican, we must mar this remarkable statement. Nevertheless it is our duty to call attention to the fact that in his effort to induce support for Mr. Wilson the chairman of the Democratic national committee has fallen into a glaring error. We have no desire to disparage the achievements of the Wilson administration, but we must enter emphatic protest against any attempt to pad the record.

"Mr. McCormick claims 'twenty measures enacted by congress while President Wilson has been in the White House.' This claim we dispute. More than one-half are measures enacted under a Republican administration and were approved by ex-President Taft, and for others the Democratic administration deserves no credit.

"Lest any one think that this is a groundless assertion, we herewith furnish the record, which can easily be verified:

"From among the twenty pieces of legislation cited by Chairman McCormick I select the following:

"(1) Eight hour law on government work. In effect March 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(2) Eight hour provision for post-office clerks. In effect generally Aug. 24, 1912.

"(3) Eight hour provision applicable to the manufacture of ordnance for the government. In effect Jan. 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(4) Children's bureau. In effect April 9, 1912. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(5) Industrial commission law to investigate industrial relations. In effect Aug. 23, 1912. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(6) The phosphorous match law. Enacted in 1912, effective as to the importation of white phosphorous matches July 1, 1913, and as to the manufacture of such matches July 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(7) The department of labor law creating a department with a secretary who shall be a member of the president's cabinet. In effect March 4, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(8) The parcel post law. In effect Jan. 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.

"(9) The federal reserve law, which, while passed during this administration, is based entirely on the vast work of investigation and compilation done by the monetary commission during the Taft administration and closely follows, except in certain details, the legislation recommended by that commission.

"(10) The eight hour law for the District of Columbia was fathered and put through by a Republican, Senator La Follette.

"The anti-trust law antedates the Cleveland administration, although President Cleveland never enforced it. From time to time, as with all great legislative acts, it has been necessary to amend or add to it, and the anti-trust law of the Wilson administration was merely such an amendment, a logical development of the original act.

"(11) The Commerce Court was actually abolished during the Taft Administration, although it has not been demonstrated that its abolition was a wise step.

"Any statement hereafter emanating

MR. WILSON YIELDED PARTLY TO FEAR, PARTLY TO HOPE OF POLITICAL PROFIT.

President Wilson yielded to the dictation of the heads of the Brotherhoods, and made no effort to find out whether the demand was right or wrong. He made no effort to find out whether it could be complied with without raising freight rates. He made no effort to find out all the equities in the case; those affecting the men, those affecting the stockholders, those affecting the shippers. He took his orders from that one of the parties in interest which he most feared. He insisted that the law be passed without inquiry. And then he deferred the operation of the law until after election, which, of course, could only have been done for political reasons. • • • The question at issue was not that of an eight-hour day at all. The question was whether President and Congress should enact a law, without investigation and without knowledge, to give increased wages to a certain portion of the body of the wage earners. The labor leaders on this issue, without regard to the right or wrong of the matter, first coerced the President, and then with his aid coerced Congress. The question at issue was not one of the hours of labor. It was one of wages. And it was settled by the President and Congress without investigation and without knowledge. The settlement was due partly to fear, and partly to hope of political profit.—From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

The Democrats complain because some Republican campaign orators pay so much attention to the President. What else has the Democratic party to talk about?

WILSON FORMERLY ASSAILED THE LABOR UNION.

The President is now a candidate for office and speaks well of labor. Until he became a candidate for office, and as long as he was President of a University, he, with entire safety, ignored or assailed the Labor Unions, indeed, he was then their bitter, ungenerous, and often unjust critic. At the People's Forum on February 25, 1905, he said: "Labor Unions drag the highest man to the level of the lowest." In an address at a dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria on March 18, 1907, in speaking of the capitalists, he said: "There is another equally formidable enemy to equality and betterment of opportunity, and that is the class formed by the labor organizations and leaders of this country." In a letter written January 12, 1909, he said: "I am a fierce partisan of the open shop." In June of the same year, speaking at Princeton, he said: "The usual standard of the employe in our day is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trades unions and this is the standard to which it is made to conform. I need not point out how economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is. The labor of America is rapidly becoming unprofitable under this regulation. Our economic supremacy may be lost because the country grows more and more full of unprofitable servants." I have no question that when Mr. Wilson thus spoke he expressed his sincere convictions. Less than two years later he was in public life and immediately his attitude changed. There is no reason to believe that his convictions changed.—From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

"President Wilson settled himself in his chair."—News item. Well, he has settled something, anyhow.

WILSON STRIKES WHEN THE IRON IS COLD

President Wilson refused to speak in Independence Hall on the one hundred and twenty-eighth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in that hall, and he so refused because inasmuch as over one hundred of our men, women and children had just been murdered on the high seas he regarded it as "the very moment when he would not care to arouse the sentiment of patriotism." Mr. Wilson has a positive genius for striking when the iron is cold and fearing to strike when the iron is hot. If one hundred and twenty-eight years ago Washington and Jefferson, and the other men who signed the Declaration of Independence had felt the same way about patriotism, and the same way about fighting as Mr. Wilson does, we would never have had a country. Had Lincoln felt the same way, there would be no such thing as the American Republic now in existence.—From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

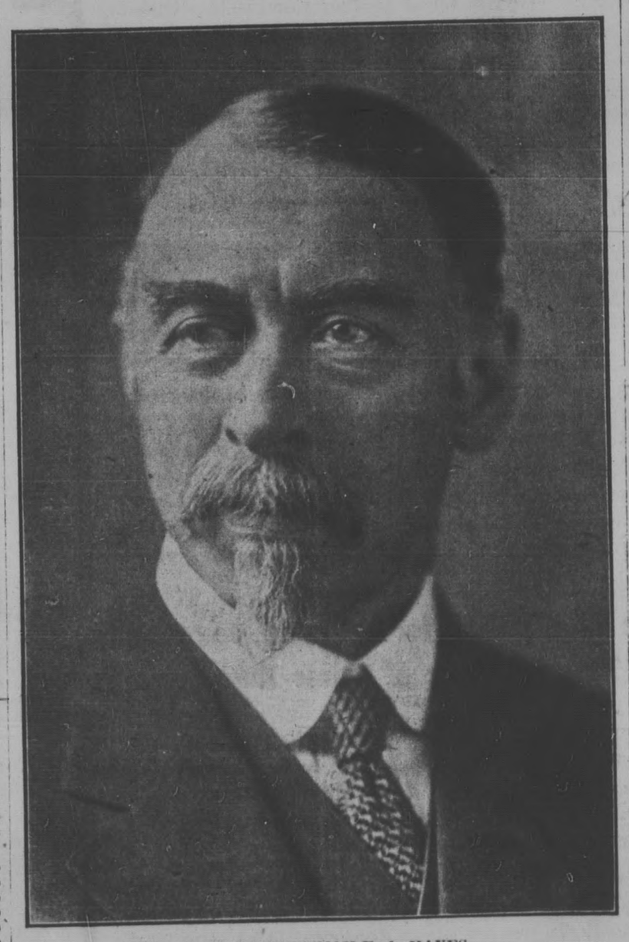
Vote Hiram W. Johnson

For U. S. Senate

HIRAM W. JOHNSON

Governor Johnson, the Republican nominee for United States Senator, is making a splendid campaign for the party in his speaking tour throughout the State. His vigorous addresses are making votes for him. It is believed his plurality over Charles Patton, his Democratic opponent, will reach the 150,000 mark. Mr. Johnson will be a credit to California in the upper house of Congress. Mr. Johnson and his associate, James D. Phelan, will be able to do good work for the State, of which they are both natives. California may justly feel proud of both its representatives in the Senate.

Be Sure and Vote to Re-Elect U. S. Congressman E. A. Hayes



U. S. CONGRESSMAN E. A. HAYES

Congressman E. A. Hayes is certain of re-election, yet voters because of this fact should not relax in their work for him. All the voters are requested to stamp his name on the ballot. Many voters believing that he having only a feeble opposition may neglect to place the cross opposite his name. This will be a mistake. No one should neglect to vote for him on this account. Mr. Hayes is doing splendid work for his party, for which he should receive a solid Republican vote. San Mateo county will on November 7 roll up its usual large majority for the popular congressman who has done so much for his district and state. Owing to his long experience in the House of Representatives he has gained a position that makes him a prominent figure in Washington. He can do much for the state. Keep Mr. Hayes in Congress.

Political opponents are beginning to find that why Mr. Hughes kept silence so long wasn't because he had lost his tongue.

Another encouraging feature about our new navy is that when it is completed Mr. Daniels will not be secretary of it.

Hughes says the country can't be saved by letting it drift. That's where he and W. Wilson differ.

Washington reports that a new apology has been sent to First Chief Carranza. Looks like a habit.

SHIFTY WILSON ON COLONEL'S BODKIN

Elusive Balancer on String of Words Pinned Down by Proof That In Fifteen Public Utterances He Took Forty-One Different Positions on Preparedness.

EACH STAND CONTRADICTED FROM 1 TO 6 OF THE OTHERS

Democratic Candidate Said That Our Army Was Ample and That We Did Not Have Enough Troops to Patrol the Border; That We Were on the Verge of a Maelstrom, and That There Was No Critical Situation; That the National Guard Would Not Do and Then That It Must Do.

In the fourteen months extending from December 8th, 1914, to February 10th, 1916, there were fifteen messages, letters and speeches of President Wilson which I have read. In these fifteen messages, letters and speeches, during those fourteen months, President Wilson took forty-one different positions about preparedness and the measures necessary to secure it; and each of these forty-one positions contradicted from one to six of the others. In many of his speeches the weasel words of one portion of the speech took all the meaning out of the words used in another portion of that speech; and these latter words themselves had a weasel significance as regards yet other words. He argued for preparedness and against preparedness. He stated that our army was ample; and that we did not have enough troops to patrol the Mexican border in time of peace. He said the world was on fire, and that sparks were liable to drop anywhere and cause us to burst into flame; and he also said that there was no immediate danger. He said that there was no sudden crisis; and then again that he did not know what a single day would bring forth. He said that we were on the verge of a maelstrom; and then that there was no special or critical situation. He said the danger was constant and immediate; and also that we were not threatened from any quarter. He said that there was no fear among us; and also that we were in daily danger of seeing the vital interest and honor of the country menaced and the flag of the United States stained with impunity. He said that we were in very critical danger of being involved in the great European struggle; and also that there was no need to discuss the question of defense, or to get nervous or excited about it. In one and the same speech, he said that a sufficient number of men would volunteer, and that if they did not he would be ashamed of America; and he also said that he did not know of any law which laid upon them the duty of coming into the army, if it should be necessary to call for volunteers. He said that we needed 500,000 volunteers, and that if there was any legitimate criticism of this demand it was because it was too small; and as soon as Congressman Hay objected to the plan, he promptly abandoned it. He said that the National Guard was not the proper body upon which to rely; and then not only changed his own mind but forced his own Secretary of War out of his cabinet, because this Secretary possessed less flexible convictions and was unable instantly to reverse himself when going at full speed.—From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

Mr. Hughes is seeing how big the west is, and the west is seeing how big Mr. Hughes is. It is a happy arrangement.

"IGNOBLE EASE" AND PEACEFUL SLOTH ARE NOT PEACE.

There is nothing that we of this country so much need as to practice the doctrine of service. As a people we need the sterner virtues even more than we need the softer virtues. Material prosperity, bodily ease, money, pleasure, are all desirable; but woe to us if we consider them as the be-all and end-all of our private lives or of our collective national life! Woe to us if our material prosperity brings in its wake lethargy of spirit and deadness of soul! Let us in our lives apply the great doctrines of duty and of service. Above all let us realize that lofty profession is a mischievous sham when it is not translated into efficient performance. Among the companions of Lucifer in Milton's mighty epic there was none among the fiercer fiends so dangerous as he who

"With words clothed in reason's garb,
Counselled ignoble ease and peaceful sloth,
Not peace."

—From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

FINNEGAN'S PHILOSOPHY

Pitiless Publicity

"I see Mr. Hughes wud like to know fwhat's come to 'Pitiless Publicity.' Meself could tell him. 'Where's "Pitiless Publicity?"' says Hughes. 'In the Ash Can,' says I. 'T'was all right on the stump, but in Washin'ton 'tis differ. The Harp that wanst through Trenton's halls—I mane Tumulty. Whin he bursts into song now he picks his chune!

"'Tis not that Prisidint Wilson is less public than Candydate Wilson—he's less pitiless. 'Tis like the showman. He tells ye all, an' more, about th' illyfant, but he has mintal res-vashune about the spotted baby.

"So it is wid Wilson. He's sof'ned th' hard heart iv 'Pitiless Publicity.' 'How about the Postmasters?' axes the refawrumers. 'We'll niver tell ye,' says the C'mishun. 'For why?' says the League. 'T'wid embar'ss th' Administhrashun,' says the C'mishun. And the people laughs. 'Ye fired th' Hid of the Cinsus,' says Hughes. 'Ye lie,' says Redfield. 'He raysined widout bein' axed,' says he. 'Ye lie yerself,' says Durand. 'Ye towld me ye'd fire me, an' ye gev me place to a pol'tician,' says Durand. 'Ixac'ly fwhat I said,' yells Pink Whiskers, 'I was goin' to fire ye annyway, but I niver axed ye to raysine,' says Pinky. An' the people roars.

"'Tell us about all thim Dishurvin' Dimmycrats,' says the people. An' Wash'in'ton is swep' be a storm iv silence.

"But doan't ye think there's no publicity at all. Teddy himself was none gunshy with the papers, but he cud be quiet too.

"'We'll grab some land in Vinzueely,' says the Ambassydure, 'tem'prily,' says he. 'Ye'll not,' says Teddy, 'ye'll agree to arbitrate,' says he, 'or,' he says, 'in tin days Dewey'll be there,' says Teddy.

"'Me Ry'le Masther will niver consint,' says th' other. 'Thin,' says Teddy, 'I'll sind Dewey at wanst. There's no use waitin'.' Teddy says. 'Howld 'em,' says the Ambassydure. 'We agree,' says he, an' divil a bit did we know how it was for a dozen year.

"'We'll have Ferdy Carey alive or the Bashi Bazook dead,' says Teddy, an' back comes Ferdy. An' the papers says, 'On demand iv the State Department Ferdy Carey has been released.' An' that's all.

"How is it now? The greasers slaughters twinty at Santy Isabel. 'Another Mexican Crisis,' says the headlines. 'Twinty Americans killed,' they says. 'The Presidint Calm,' says they. 'Ates Bacon and Eggs. Plays Goluf,' says the headlines. An' the paper goes on:

"'The Prisidint's appytite at breakfast was good, th' leader iv the nashun gettin' outside iv grape fruit, bacon an' eggs, hot biscuit an' coffee. Whin Docther Grayson announced the bill iv fare the tinshun over Mexico was much relaved.

"'The Prisidint is solvin' in privacy the fateful question, "Will me throat last?" The answer is waited wid feverish anxiety.'

"Mondah the papers says: 'Nashunal Disaster! Sore Throat Feared! Panic at the Capital! The Prisidint Calm!

"'Consternation was spread among all classes today be the report that the Prisidint awoke with a sore throat. Strong men fainted before they cud reach the nearest saloon. There is talk iv appintin' a day iv prayer. It is hoped that Senor Arre-ye-on-though will claim that the dead Americans raysisted ixicushun. A high authority states that this wud end the crisis. The Prisidint made but wan remark: "Av they'd not been there they'd not iv been kilt."'

"Choosdah, they says, 'Hope revives. No sore throat. Bitten by insect. President calm. All Phrases iv Matther to be considered.

"'The anxiety in the Capital was relaved today be the followin' bulletin:

"'"The Prisidint has a slight perforation in the cuticle over the infery-ure maximary caused be a insect bitin' him whin asleep. The patient was too proud to scratch. (Signed) Grayson."

"'It is reported also that Gineral Scott will go to the border to bury the dead, and apologize to the insurgints. He will axe Carranzy, whether he wud accept a loan if offered. This is considered the thrue s'lution iv the difficulty.'

"Winsdah the Prisidint goes motorin', Thursdah he writes a note and Gineral Scott starts for the border. Fridah the headlines says 'Peace in Europe near. President studyin' terms. Will he stop the war? Another note expected. Capital excited over report.'

"But we're comforted be bein' towld the Prisidint will not be bethrayed into hasty ackshun.

"Sundah, he's considerin' th' Armenyan question, an' Mondah he advises Grandmothers about suckin' eggs. And another crisis is past.

"So it goes ivry day. As I was sayin', there's a'plenty publicity, but 'tis not the brand iv 1912."

Evidently Mr. Wilson has made up his mind about something. He refers in his acceptance speech to "the sovereign authority of Mexico." He may have decided to whom he was referring. Less than two years ago he was not sure whether it was the soldier-bandit Villa or the grocer-grafter Carranza.

It's not to be wondered that Thomas A. Edison favors Wilson's re-election. The electrical wizard naturally likes anything that switches on and off.

COL. ROOSEVELT APPEALS FOR THE ELECTION OF MR. HUGHES.

I appeal to my fellow citizens that they shall elect Mr. Hughes and repudiate Mr. Wilson because only by so doing can they save America from that taint of gross selfishness and cowardice which we owe to Mr. Wilson's substitution of adroit elocution for straightforward action. The permanent interests of the American people lie, not in ease and comfort for the moment, no matter how obtained, as Mr. Wilson would teach us; but in resolute championship of the ideals of national and international democratic duty, and in preparedness to make this championship effective by our strength. President dent Wilson embodies in his person that most dangerous doctrine which teaches our people that when fronted with really formidable responsibilties we can shirk trouble and labor and risk, and avoid duty by the simple process of drugging our souls with the narcotic of meaningless phrasemongering. Mr. Hughes, to the exact contrary, embodies the ideal of service rendered through conscientious effort in the face of danger and difficulty. Mr. Wilson turns his words into deeds only if this can be achieved by adroit political maneuvering, by bartering a debauched civil service for congressional votes on behalf of some measure which he had solemnly promised to oppose. Our own self-respect demands that we support the man of deeds done in the open against the man of furtive and shifting political maneuvers; the man of service against the man who whenever opposed by a dangerous foe always takes refuge in empty elocution.—From the Speech of Col. Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

GREAT GROWTH OF HUGHES NATIONAL COLLEGE LEAGUE

Thirty thousand college alumni have enrolled so far in the Hughes National College League, 511 Fifth avenue, New York. The oldest living graduate of Brown University, which graduated Governor Hughes, enrolled this week. He is the Rev. John Hunt of Springfield, Ohio, ninety-three years old, Brown, 1842.

The league challenged the Woodrow Wilson College Men's League this week to join it in "having any reputable audit company in this city check up immediately from the original cards your actual enrollments of Princeton alumni and ours, your total enrollments and ours, and your enrollments from any college you may select and ours."

The college men in the National Guard along the Mexican border are joining in droves, according to the officers of the league, and many have written in to signify their discontent with the Administration's handling of the Mexican situation.

William R. Moody, son of Dwight Lyman Moody, the famous evangelist, wrote to the league offering his assistance in East Northfield, Mass., and said:

"I am among those who feel very strongly that it would be a National disaster to have the present Administration continued another season, feeling deeply the humiliation to which our country has been subjected in the sight of the world, by the lack of any foreign policy, and by the vacillation of its dealings."

The Administration ought to be able to take a comfortable rest. It has turned pretty much everything over to commissions from the Mexican question to the tariff. The talent for shirking responsibilities comes handy sometimes.

WILSON DEEMED IT FUTILE TO STAND FIRMLY.

President Wilson seeks to justify himself on the ground that it was "futile" and dangerous to "stand firmly." This is an appeal that can with equal truth be made by every soldier who runs away in battle. He further alleges his belief that the cause he championed "has the sanction of the judgment of society in its favor." I remember thirty-odd years ago in the Black Hills a local vigilance committee which was in doubt about hanging a suspected wrongdoer. While they were discussing the matter, there appeared over the neighboring divide a frowsy, elderly horseman in a linen duster, who promptly galloped towards them waving his arms and shouting "Hang him! Hang him!" The leader of the vigilantes at once asked the frowsy stranger what he knew of the facts, whereupon the stranger answered: "I do not know anything about the facts, and I never saw the man before; but there's eleven of you and only one of him, and I believe in majority rule!" This is merely a picturesque paraphrase of what Mr. Wilson calls action under "the sanction of society." It exemplifies the principle upon which President Wilson has acted in those public matters, internal and external, where he was threatened with the use of force. —From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. The fund created for the construction, acquisition of a system of state highways by an act entitled "An act authorizing the construction, acquisition, maintenance and control of a system of state highways in the State of California; specifying the work, fixing the payments to be made by counties for moneys expended therein; providing for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the construction and acquisition of such system; creating a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds; and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people," approved March 22, 1909, and approved, ratified and adopted by the people of the State of California at the general election held in the month of November, A. D. 1910, and known and cited as the "State Highways Act," being inadequate to fully carry out the objects of said act, the uncompleted portions of said system prescribed by said "State Highways Act" and certain extensions there from hereinafter specified shall be constructed, improved and acquired as and in the manner provided by law by the department of engineering of said state at a cost not to exceed fifteen million dollars. For the purpose of providing for the payment of the cost of the construction, improvement or acquisition necessary for and in completing said system of said highways and supplementing the fund created by said "State Highways Act," the State of California is hereby authorized to incur an indebtedness in the manner provided by this act in the sum of fifteen million dollars.

Immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor, as provided in section eleven of this act, the treasurer of the state shall prepare fifteen thousand suitable bonds of the State of California in the denomination of one thousand dollars each, to be numbered from 1 to 15,000 inclusive, and to bear the date of the third day of July, 1917. The total issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of fifteen million dollars and they shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum from the date of issuance thereof. The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of value either at the office of the treasurer of said state or, at the option of the holder, at the fiscal agency for the State of California in the city of New York in the state of New York, at the times and in the manner following, to wit: The first three hundred seventy-five of said bonds shall be due and payable on the third day of July, 1923, and three hundred seventy-five of said bonds in consecutive numerical order shall be due and payable on the third day of July in each and every year thereafter until and including the third day of July, 1962. The interest accruing on all of said bonds that shall be sold shall be payable either at the office of the treasurer of the state or at said fiscal agency, as the holder may elect, on the third day of January and the third day of July of each and every year after the sale of the same. The interest on all bonds issued and sold shall cease on the day of their maturity and the said bonds so issued and sold shall on the day of their maturity be paid as herein provided and canceled by the treasurer of said state. All bonds remaining unsold shall, at the date of the maturity thereof be by the treasurer of the state canceled and destroyed. All bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be signed by the governor of this state, countersigned by the state controller and endorsed by the state treasurer, and the said bonds shall be so signed, countersigned and endorsed by the officers who are in office on the third day of July, 1917, and each of said bonds shall have the great seal of the State of California impressed thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed as herein provided, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, though the sale therof be made at a date or dates after the person so signing, countersigning and endorsing, or either of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of said office or offices.

Sec. 2. Appended to each of said bonds there shall be interest coupons so attached that the same may be detached without injury to or mutilation of said bond. The said coupons shall be consecutively numbered and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the third day of July, 1917. No interest shall be paid on any of said bonds for such time as may intervene between the date of said bond and the date of sale thereof, unless such accrued interest shall have been, by the purchaser of said bond, paid to the state at the time of such sale.

Sec. 3. The legislature shall provide by appropriation sufficient money to defray all expenses that shall be incurred by the state treasurer in the preparation of said bonds and in the advertising of the sale thereof, as in this act provided.

Sec. 4. When the bonds authorized by this act to be issued shall have been signed, countersigned, endrosed and sealed as in section one provided, the state treasurer shall sell the same in such parcels and numbers as the governor of the state shall direct, to the highest bidder for cash. The governor of the state shall issue to the state treasurer such direction immediately after being requested so to do, through and by a resolution duly adopted and passed by a majority vote of the advisory board of the department of engineering. Said resolution shall specify the amount of money which, in the judgment of said advisory board, shall be required at such time, and the governor of the state shall direct the state treasurer to sell such number of said bonds as may be required to raise said amount of money and that said bonds shall be sold in consecutive order commencing with the first three hundred seventy-five thereof. The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date. The state treasurer may at the time and place fixed by him for said sale continue such sale as to the whole or any part of the bonds offered to such time and place as he may at the time of such continuance designate. Before offering any of said bonds for sale, the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the date fixed for such sale. The state treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco and in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles and in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento once a week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expenses and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised.

There is hereby created in and for the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "Second State Highway Fund," and immediately after such sale of bonds the treasurer of the state shall pay into the state treasury and cause to be placed in said second state highway fund the total amount received for said bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon. The amount that shall have been paid as such sale as accrued interest on the bonds so sold shall be by the treasurer of the state, immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in the "Second State Highway Interest and Sinking Fund," which is hereby created.

Of the moneys placed in the said second state highway fund, pursuant to the provisions of this section, the sum of twelve million dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby made available, and shall be used exclusively for the acquisition of rights of way for and the acquisition, construction and improvement of the uncompleted portions of the system of state highways prescribed by said "State Highways Act." And of said money so placed in said second state highway fund, the sum of three million dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby made available and shall be used exclusively for the acquisition of rights of way for, and the acquisition, construction and improvement of certain extensions from said system of state highways prescribed by said "State Highways Act" as follows: An extension connecting the interior and coast trunk lines in northern California through Trinity and Humboldt counties by the most direct and practical route; an extension connecting the San Joaquin valley trunk line at a point between the city of Merced in Merced county, and the city of Madera, in Madera county, with the coast trunk line at or near the city of Gilroy in Santa Clara county, through Pacheco pass, by the most direct and practical route; an extension of the Mariposa county state highway lateral to or near the railway station El Portal, in Mariposa county; an extension connecting the San Joaquin valley trunk line in Tulare county with the coast trunk line in Monterey county, by the continuation of the lateral between the cities of Visalia and Hanford through Coalinga by the most direct and practical route; an extension connecting the San Joaquin valley trunk line at or near Bakersfield with the coast trunk line in San Luis Obispo county, through Cholame pass, by the most direct and practical route; an extension of the San Bernardino county state highway lateral to Barstow, in San Bernardino county, by the most direct and practical route; an extension connecting Antelope valley, in the county of Los Angeles, with the city of Los Angeles, by the most direct and practical route; and an extension of the San Bernardino county state highway lateral to the Arizona state line near the town of Yuma, Arizona, via the cities of Brawley and El Centro in Imperial county, by the most direct and practical route; provided, however, that expenses of the acquisition, construction and improvement of the extensions above enumerated and the acquisition of rights of way therefor, shall be partly borne by the county or counties in which such extensions lie, the extent and character of such division of expenses between the state and county shall rest for final determination with the state department of engineering and said department is hereby authorized to enter into such agreements and undertakings as are necessary to properly carry out the intent of this section.

The route or routes of said state highways to be acquired, constructed or improved under the provisions of this act shall be selected by the department of engineering in the manner provided by and to carry out the objects of said "State Highways Act" and in the manner provided by and to carry out the objects of this act.

Moneys shall be drawn from said second state highway fund for the purposes of this act upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands made by the department of engineering and allowed and audited by the state board of control; provided, however, that out of the proceeds of the first sale of bonds made hereunder the state controller and the state treasurer shall transfer upon their respective books the sum of one hundred thousand dollars to the credit of the "State Highway Revolving Fund," which fund is hereby created in the state treasury. The moneys in said state highway revolving fund, or such part thereof as the advisory board of the department of engineering shall deem necessary, may be expended, from time to time, upon the demands of the department of engineering, approved by the state board of control, for the purpose of making cash payments in advance for such expenditures as are necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this act. Upon receipt of such demands, so approved, it shall be the duty of the state controller to draw his warrant upon said "State Highway Revolving Fund" in favor of the person or persons therein named, and the state treasurer shall pay the same. On or before the tenth day of each month thereafter, the department of engineering shall submit to the state board of control a verified itemized statement, showing all expenditures during the preceding calendar month of the moneys so withdrawn from said "State Highway Revolving Fund," accompanied by proper vouchers and receipts therefor. Such statements shall be audited by the state board of control in the same manner that claims against the state are audited, and, if found to be correct, shall be approved by the state board of control and transmitted to the state controller with such approval indorsed thereon. The state controller shall thereupon draw his warrant upon the "Second State Highway Fund" in favor of the department of engineering for the aggregate amount of such expenditures, and upon the surrender of such warrant properly indorsed, the state treasurer shall trnsfer the amount thereof upon the books of his office from the said "Second State Highway Fund" to the said "State Highway Revolving Fund," to be expended as aforesaid.

Sec. 5. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal and the interest on the bonds, issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act, as said principal and interest be comes due and payable.

There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue, to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

The treasurer of the state shall, on the first day of January, 1918, and on the first day of each July and the first day of each January thereafter transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to the "Second State Highway Interest and Sinking Fund" such an amount of the money by this act appropriated as shall be required to pay the interest on the bonds theretofore sold, until the interest on all of said bonds so sold shall have been paid or shall have become due in accordance with the provisions of this act.

There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "Second State Highway Sinking Fund." The treasurer of the state shall on the first day of July of the year 1923, and on the first day of July, of each, and every year thereafter in which a parcel of the bonds sold pursuant to the provisions of this act shall become due, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to the said second state highway sinking fund such an amount of the moneys appropriated by this act as may be required to pay the principal of the bonds so becoming due and payable in such years.

Sec. 6. The principal of all of said bonds sold shall be paid at the time same becomes due, from the second state highway sinking fund, and the interest on all bonds sold shall be paid at the time said interest becomes due, from the second state highway interest and sinking fund. Both principal and interest shall be so paid upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands audited by the state board of control, and the faith of the State of California is hereby pledged for the payment of the principal of said bonds so sold, and the interest accruing thereon.

Sec. 7. The state controller and state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act and they shall transmit to the governor in triplicate an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder with an annual report in triplicate, one copy of each to be by the governor, laid before each house of the legislature biennially. All books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall, at all times, be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature or a joint committee of both or any citizen of the state.

Sec. 8. The highway constructed or acquired under the provisions of this act shall be permanent in character and be finished with oil or macadam or a combination of both, or of such other material as in the judgment of the said department of engineering shall be most suitable and best adopted to the particular locality transversed. The state department of engineering, in the name of the people of the State of California, may purchase, or receive by donation or dedication from counties, or from public or private persons, or it may lease, any right of way, rock quarry or land necessary or proper for the construction, use, improvement or maintenance of said state highway and shall proceed, if necessary, to condemn under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to such proceedings any necessary or proper right of way, rock quarry or land. The department of engineering in accordance with law shall have power and authority to purchase, sell, exchange, lease or otherwise acquire or dispose of all suppliese, stock material, machinery and implements and do all other things necessary or proper in the construction, improvement or maintenance of said state highway. The department of engineering in accordance with law shall have power and authority to purchase, lease, or erect plants for manufacture of cement, crushed rock and other materials used in road or highway work, and also the power to dispose of said plants when no longer required for such purposes. With the exception of those public highways which have been permanently improved under county or permanent road division bond issues within nine years prior to the adoption of this act, all public highways within this state lying within the right of way of said state highway as determined and adopted by the department of engineering shall be and the same shall become a part of the right of way of said state highway, without compensation being paid therefor; provided, nothing herein contained shall require the state to maintain any highway along or on said right of way, prior to the completion or acquisition of the permanent improvements contemplated by this act. Whenever any money received from the sale of bonds under the provisions of this act, shall be expended in any county in this state, such county must pay into the state treasury such sum each year as shall equal the interest, at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum, upon the entire sum of money expended from the proceeds of the bonds issued under this act within such county in the construction of said state highway, less such proportion of said amount expended as the bonds matured under the provisions of this act shall bear to the total number of bonds sold and outstanding; provided, however, that in all cases where, by reason of physical difficulties to be overcome, or other good and sufficient cause, the state department of engineering shall determine that the cost of construction of any portion of such state highway in any county, or counties, is so great as to entail an unjust and inequitable burden upon any such county, or counties, in refunding to the state the sums so paid for interest upon the bonds sold and the proceeds thereof applied as aforesaid, such county, or counties, shall not be required to refund the whole amount of such interest, but only such portion thereof as the state department of engineering shall adjudge to be fair and reasonable. All highways constructed or acquired under the provisions of this act shall be permanently maintained and controlled by the State of California.

Sec. 9. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, 1916, as to all its provisions except those relating to, and necessary for, its submission to the people and for returning, canvassing and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the present session of the legislature.

Sec. 10. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election to be holden in the month of November, nineteen hundred and sixteen, and all ballots at such election shall have printed thereon the words "For the State Highway Act of 1915" and such other designation as may be necessary to properly identify this act. In a square immediately below the square containing said words there shall be printed on said ballot the words "Against the State Highway Act of 1915." Opposite the words "For the State Highway Act of 1915" and "Against the State Highway Act of 1915," there shall be left spaces in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against this act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the State Highway Act of 1915" and those voting against said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the State Highway Act of 1915." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

Sec. 11. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers, and if it appears that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election, as aforesaid, then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided and shall be irrepealable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof. But if a majority of the votes cast, as aforesaid, are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

Sec. 12. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state, for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November, A. D. nineteen hundred and sixteen; the cost of publication shall be paid out of the general fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for the purpose.

Sec. 13. This act shall be known and cited as the "State Highways Act of 1915."

Sec. 14. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

I also proclaim, in pursuance of the provisions of section 3 of Chapter 414, Statutes of 1915, that at said election there will be submitted to the vote of the electors the following act of the legislature amending section 8 of the State Highways Act of 1909, approved by the electors of the State at the general election held in November, 1910:

Section eight of an act entitled "An act authorizing the construction, acquisition, maintenance and control of a system of state highways in the State of California, specifying the work, fixing the payments to be made by counties for moneys expended therein; providing for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the construction and acquisition of such system; creating a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds; and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people," approved March 22, 1909, and approved, ratified and adopted by the people of the State of California at the general election held in the month of November, 1910, A. D., is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. The highway constructed or acquired under the provisions of this act shall be permanent in character and be finished with oil or macadam or a combination of both, or of such other material as in the judgment of the said department of engineering shall be most suitable and best adopted to the particular locality traversed. The state department of engineering, in the name of the people of the State of California, may purchase, receive by donation or dedication, or lease and right of way, rock quarry or land necessary or proper for the construction, use or maintenance of said state highway and shall proceed, if necessary, to condemn under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to such proceedings any necessary or proper right of way, rock quarry or land. The department of engineering shall have full power and authority to purchase all supplies, material, machinery and to do all other things necessary or proper in the construction and maintenance of said state highway. With the exception of those public highways which have been permanently improved under county or permanent road division bond issues within three years prior to the adoption of this act, all public highways within this state lying within the right of way of said state highway as determined and adopted by the department of engineering shall be and the same shall become a part of the right of way of said state highway; without compensation being paid therefor; provided, nothing herein contained shall require the state to maintain any highway along or on said right of way, prior to the completion or acquisition of the permanent improvements contemplated by this act. Whenever any money received from the sale of bonds, under the provisions of this act, shall be expended in any county in this state, such county must pay into the state treasury such sum each year as shall equal the interest, at the rate of four per cent per annum, upon the entire sum of money expended within such county in the construction of said state highway, less such portion of said amount expended as the bonds matured under the provisions of this act, shall bear to the total number of bonds sold and outstanding; provided, however, that in all cases where, by reason of physical difficulties to be overcome, or other good and sufficient cause, the state department of engineering shall determine that the cost of construction of any portion of such state highway in any county, or counties, is so great as to entail an unjust and inequitable burden upon any such county, or counties, in refunding to the state the sums so paid for interest upon the bonds sold and the proceeds thereof applied as aforesaid, such county, or counties, shall not be required to refund the whole amount of such interest, but only such portion thereof as the state department of engineering shall adjudge to be fair and reasonable. All highways constructed or acquired under the provisions of this act shall be permanently maintained and controlled by the State of California.

Sec. 2. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, 1916, as to all its provisions except those relating to, and necessary for, its submission to the people and for returning, canvassing and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the present session of the legislature.

Sec. 3. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California, for their ratification at the next general election to be holden in the month of November, 1916, A. D., and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon, and at the end thereof, the words "For the amendment to the state highway act"; and in a separate line, under the same, the words "Against the amendment to the state highway act." Opposite said lines there shall be left spaces in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against said act and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the amendment to the state highway act," and all those voting against the said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the amendment to the state highway act." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

But if a majority of the votes cast, as aforesaid, are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state, for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November, A. D. nineteen hundred and sixteen; the cost of publication shall be paid out of the general fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for the purpose.

I further proclaim that at said election there will also be submitted to the vote of the electors such proposed constitutional amendments, questions, propositions, initiative measures and acts suspended by referendum, as are required to be so submitted by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Shall We Discard Local Option and Adopt State Prohibition?

Under the existing Wyllie Local Option Law, it lies within the power of the citizens of any community in California to adopt local prohibition for their own city, town, or supervisorial district.

*In every community in this State absolute control over this question lies in the hands of the majority of the voters. No interference from the outside is possible; nothing can thwart the wishes of the majority in the city, town or supervisoral district with respect to the question of license or no license.

ANNUAL DISPLAY OF HORTICULTURE

Menlo Experts Make Wonderful Showing of Chrysanthemums, Dahlias and Other Flowers

The annual flower show of the Menlo Park Horticultural Society opened in Foresters' Hall last evening under most favorable auspices. Hundreds viewed in wonderment the vast array of pretty blooms and attractive foliage, plants of every variety and hue. The exhibit is one of the best ever given by the society. Chrysanthemums are the best displayed and certainly nowhere in the world could a larger variety or better exhibit be made. The display is certainly beyond description.

One of the wonders of the show is the little booth showing the handiwork of the blind of San Francisco. The display and sale is under the auspices of the Association for the Blind of San Francisco. The beautiful baskets, rugs and wicker ware made by the blind are viewed with amazement by all visiting the flower show and nearly everyone buys some article for the fund thus raised goes to the support of the unfortunate blind under the care of the association. Every one should patronize this booth and help those who cannot help themselves.

There are many exhibitors, each vieing with the others in the quality of the flowers and plants exhibited. The K. S. Murray Forest of this city is exhibiting four varities of roses. They are rare specimens. The Lynch Nurseries are making a fine display of chrysanthemums, roses and choice ferns. The display is a very creditable one. Sig Sterns of Atherton has a fine exhibit of tuberous begonias, chrysanthemums, dahlias and a fine show of vegetables of almost every variety. The exhibit occupies 36 square feet of space. It is the finest at the show. Henry Goertzhain has a splendid bank of chrysanthemums, perhaps the finest display ever seen in the state. A. G. C. Hahan's display of begonias, primula and coleus is certainly one worth while seeing. The J. A. Donohoe exhibit of vegetables is a very creditable one. H. Fleishhacker's orchids are attracting attention. The flowers are well formed and beautiful. Mrs. E. S. Heller has a splendid display of tuberous begonias and dahlias. Everyone admires the beautiful display. A large bank of foliage plants of almost every variety is shown in the big group in the center of the hall ,the exhibit of Louis Stern of Atherton. J. M. Daley has the finest assortment of fruit and vegetables at the show. It would, indeed, be difficult to excell the display. The Bessie Boston Dahlia Farm display is a wonder. The Mills Nursery of Palo Alto has also a good assortment of roses and caranations. Roses are the principal display of the Hillsborough nursery. The show will continue until tomorrow.

Sidney Clack of Mayfield, Mr. Clark of Atherton, Frank Pelicano of San Francisco, Mark Hopkins of Redwood City and Mr. J. Poss of San Mateo judged the big show yesterday afternoon and made the following awards:

Louis Stern first prize for group of plants and the society's cup for 24 blooms of chrysanthemums. Lynch Nursery, Menlo Park, ten first prizes for chrysanthemums, ferns and carnations. Sig Sterns, first prize for best display of vegetables. Mrs. J. Leroy Nickel first prize for fruit. H. Goertzhain, five first prizes for chrysanthemums. Mrs. J. A. Donohoe second prize for vegetables. C. W. Smith, one first prize for chrysanthemums. Herbert Fleishhacker, first prize for display of orchids.

SAN MATEO LAW FIRM WINS IN BOND SUIT

The Ocean View Land and Improvement case against the Ransome-Crummy Company was decided recently in favor of defendant. The plaintiff who owns property in Daly City to the extent of $25,000 brought an action restraining the issuance of street improvement bonds in the amount of $85,000 to be spent in improving the streets of Daly City. Plaintiff alleged that the proceedings leading up to the issuance of the bonds were illegal and not properly conducted. Kirkbride and Gordon, who handled all the proceedings, contended that they were done in accordance with law. The court took the lawyer's view of the intricate case and decided accordingly. The judgment in favor of defendants is a big victory for the San Mateo law firm.

COMMERCE CHAMBER BRIDGE PROJECT

Permanent Organization Effected to Plan Financing of New Dumbarton Crossing

F. H. Drake presided at a Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday night.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the assemblage was called to order and business proceeded with military precision.

The object of the meeting was to formulate plans for construction of a vehicular bridge to cross the bay near Dumbarton point.

Secretary McGettigan drew a vivid word-picture of the growth of peninsular traffic and the need of this short-cut.

The principal speaker of the evening was Harlan D. Miller a bridge constructor of national reputation. structor of national reputation.

Every word that Mr. Miller spoke carried impress of the expert. It was a steady recital of technical fact upon fact.

Mr. Miller said the most favorable crossing would be about three-quarters of a mile south of the existing Dumbarton bridge, and told why —that the government did not approve of bridges being built nearer together than that, and because the bay narrowed to the south and the cost would be much less, while to the north of Dumbarton bridge the bay widens out and presents financial obstacles.

He said the best plan would be to build a solid fill for the greater distance over the mud-flats, using the dredged material, the same as was done at the Oakland mole, except at the channel crossing, where a drawbridge would be required.

Where rock is used, rock in place runs up into dollars, while material from the dredges costs only a few cents per cubic yard and it makes a solid, substantial roadway.

The minimum cost would be from $350,000 to $400,000.

Mr. Miller suggested that perhaps a part of this amount could be secured from the State highway fund on a proper showing being made.

He was asked if a better plan would be to try and have it covered in the proposed State bond issue, but the question was not debated.

The incident merely showed that the cost must be considered and the financing problem solved as soon as practicable.

Others who addressed the meeting were Professor Wing of Stanford, Dennis Searles of Oakland, W. J. Martin of South San Francisco, W. B. Lawrence of San Mateo, and bay county delegates.

Chairman Drake explained that the time had now arrived to take up the matter of permanent organization and the following were chosen: W. J. Martin, South San Francisco, chairman; F. H. Drake, Redwood City, vice-chairman; E. T. McGettigan, Redwood City, secretary; Prof. Charles B. Wing, Stanford university, treasurer.

A meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce in San Francisco shortly, at which the financing of the project will be considered.

TOWN TRUSTEES PROMPT IN ACTION

Adjourned Meeting Monday Night Resulted in Important Work Being Disposed Of

Monday evening the board of town trustees held an adjourned meeting to receive bids for the construction of culverts for the Redwood Highlands drainage system.

Three bids received were all so far above the engineer's estimate that some other plan will have to be followed in doing the work. Former city engineer E. J. Finlay's estimate for doing the work was in the neighborhood of $7,200 while the lowest bid, that of Tieslau Bros. was $9,939.20. Eaton & Smith bid $12,504.74 and Dreyfus Bros., $12,222.81 The excessive cost of this work was considered due to the elaborate and extravagant plans of the city engineer.

As no other plan offered itself at the time the board laid the bids over until November 6th by which time some more reasonable method will likely be divised.

The appeal of Blanchard Brown Co. to straighten out the street assessment of East Brewster was passed and adopted by resolution. Attorney Gordon of San Mateo was present and addressed the board for the company.

City Engineer Porter was instructed to prepare a new map of the city to include all of the new items not found on the older maps. He will also prepare tracings for the use of various city departments.

City Attorney Mansfield will prepare a draft for an ordinance defining the duties, regulating the offices and setting the fees to be charged by the city engineer. Lack of definite information on these points has cause a great deal of trouble in the past.

The Menlo Park Horticultural Society extended a vote of thanks to the board for the privilege of hanging a banner on Main street.

WOODSIDE LANDS ON MARKET

Court Orders and Private Sales Indicate Changes Occurring In the Valley Beautiful

Walter C. Graves has sold his beautiful home at Woodside to Edward J. Greenhood of San Francisco. The consideration is said to be $40,000. Mr. Graves originally bought the property from Mr. Lyon. It is one of the prettiest homes in Woodside.

Judge Buck on Thursday made an order permitting Catherine Kelly, executrix of the estate of Thomas J. Kelly, deceased, to sell an undivided half interest in 59 acres of what is known as the Hugh Kelly ranch at Portola. This is only a portion of the ranch. Some years ago a part of the Kelly holdings were sold to the Family Club. Over 200 acres still remain unsold.

It was rumored yesterday that Thomas Waters had sold his ranch on the La Honda road above Woodside to W. H. Talbot. The rumor could not be confirmed but inasmuch as the Talbots own large holdings in that vicinity it is possible that they have added the Waters tract thereto.

At the San Jose poultry show held last week J. A. Folger's fowls were among the best winners. They won seven first, three third, three special, and three cups for the best male in Whit Leghorns, Plymouth Rocks and best display in White Leghorns. That shows San Mateo county has choice fowls.

P. P. CHAMBERLAIN'S BIRTHDAY

P. P. Chamberlain, the popular county treasurer, celebrated his seventy-sixth birthday last Sunday in the hills back of Portola, as is his custom to do each year. Chamberlain has the reputation of being the youngest old man in the State. His guests were members of the San Mateo lodge of Elks, and Ole Johnson and George Shine prepared the barbecue. Chamberlain was presented with a watch fob in the shape of an Elk's tooth by his friends. A. D. Walsh made the presentation speech. Those present at the barbecue were: P. P. Chamberlain, D. P. Flynn, Carl Muller, A. D. Walsh, J. F. Johnston, J. Leslie Johnston of Santa Cruz, Ole Johnson, Joe Perry, Wm. Lipp, Jr., Frank Zimmerman, Ernest Werder, John MacBain, Tom Flynn, Henry Steinberger, Sheriff M. Sheehan, Dave Flynn, Guy Hull, Asa Hull, Bert Werder and George Shine.

MRS. IONIA LILLIAN SCOW WEDS L. W. MILLER

L. W. Miller, one of the best known citizens of this section of the valley, has embarked on the sea of matrimony. Word comes from Redwood City of the marriage of Mr. Miller to Mrs. Ionia Lillian Scow in Redwood City on October 14. The bride is a native daughter of the Sacramento valley and is well known in Glenn and Colusa counties, being the granddaughter of the owner of the famous Fouts Springs.

Mrs. Miller has two small sons by a former marriage. The newlyweds are spending their honeymoon in San Francisco at the home of the bride on Mission Terrace. They will make their home there until they will be at home to their friends in Palo Alto or one of the San Mateo cities. Mr. Miller, with a business associate, has contracted for the erection of three fine homes in Palo Alto and Redwood City. —Orland Register.

AIRCRAFT PLANT IMPRESSES VISITOR

Foreign governments have agents in San Francisco purchasing supplies for the winter season, and among them is Romie de Kschemeesky, representing the czar, and who has visited the Christofferson aviation school and manufacturing plant with the view of inspecting the Christofferson machine in anticipation of purchasing a number for his government.

The gentleman paid this office a visit yesterday and expressed himself well pleased with Redwood City and spoke glowingly of the Christofferson plant and its possibilities.

MRS. MARGARET FLYNN AT REST

In the death of Mrs. Margaret Flynn, wife of the late William Flynn, Redwood City loses one of its oldest pioneers. Mrs. Flynn passed away following a long illness early on Thursday morning. Her faithful niece, Mrs. Joseph Dickey, has been at her bedside constantly administering to her every want. She came to Redwood City at an early date and by frugality and industry accumulated sufficient property to provide her comfort in her old days. Mrs. Flynn was a native of County Cork, Ireland, aged 73 years. Her husband died in this city about ten years ago. No children were born to the couple. The funeral will take place this morning at 9:15 o'clock from her late residence on Fuller street. A requiem high mass will be celebrated for the repose of her soul at Mount Carmel church commencing at 9:30. Interment will be in Holy Cross cemetery, Menlo Park.

Professor Bower of the grammar school gave an interesting travalogue before the Native Sons at their meeting held on Thursday evening. His topic consisted of an account of his travels through Siskiyou county. His description of the old mining camps was very interesting and instructive.

Two pet deer from the St. Helena Sanitarium arrived here by express for Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco for his Alpine ranch. The mayor has prepared a large park for the animals. He expects to secure many more. No doubt the wild ones on the outside of the park will look with envy upon their more fortunate well-fed and sleek specie on the inside but who are deprived of their liberty for the benefit of mankind.

The public is cordially invited to this Sunday evening concert.

LA HONDA HAPPENINGS

Passing of Armand Keiffer, the Well-known Hotel Man

Armand Keiffer, the well known hotel keeper of La Honda, passed away at the Redwood City hospital last Wednesday night following a serious operation which had to be performed as the last resort to save his life. Mr. Keiffer was a sufferer from a serious malady for some years and the insidious disease became so virulent that the knife had to be used. The deceased came to La Honda nearly forty years ago from France with three brothers, all of whom with the exception of Armand met violent deaths. Their uncle, the late Michael Dubs, owned a large tract of land near La Honda which the Keiffer Brothers farmed for a long time, afterwards engaging in the saloon and hotel business on the property then owned by the late Chas. Hanson and recently sold to Mr. Anzini who is soon to conduct the old stand. In early days A. Keiffer was considered the Democratic boss of La Honda and his influence was often sought by the politicians. He was one of the best known men of this portion of the county.

EKSWARD FOR ASSEMBLY

The people of Redwood City have good reason to be grateful to Frank L. Eksward, who is now a candidate for the Assembly from this county, for the many things he has accomplished for this section while serving as secretary of the County Development Association. It will be remembered that when the Congressional Rivers and Harbors committee came to California on a tour of inspection, it was Mr. Eksward who by sheer determination and perseverance succeeded in getting the committee to stop off at Redwood and make an inspection of our waterfront. It was Mr. Eksward who prevented the committee of Congressmen from giving Redwood City the "go-by", as they commonly call it, and going straight through from San Francisco to San Jose.

This is only one instance in which Mr. Eksward has displayed his active interest in our local affairs and has cooperated in movements looking toward local improvements. His part in the campaignas for reduced commutation rates and the good roads bond issue was also highly commended and he has ever shown a keen interest in anything tending toward the growth and development of the peninsula.

Public service has been his business and there is no reason for believing that he would not do equally well for this county at Sacramento as he has done right here at home.

Mr. Eksward knows the county, he knows its people, he knows their needs and he knows how those needs can best be filled. He is able, aggressive, honest and a good public speaker. What other qualification could be desired in any Assemblyman.

ALBT. EIKERENKOTTER VERY ILL

SOLILOQUY AT SHADOW LAWN

Where are they gone, the old familiar faces?
I had a friend—McCombs, but he left me,
Left me slowly but surely, when I did not need him.
All, all are gone, the old familiar faces!

Once I had Bryan; he was my friend
In my hours of struggling in that great convention,
But now he's gone. Left me with "God bless you!"
Upon his lips. Gone, are the old familiar faces.

I had a friend; a truer friend had no man.
Like an ingrate, I wounded my friend acutely;
And he, good Colonel Harvey, left me. Left me
To muse on the old familiar faces!

At my right hand sat my friend
Who was the strong arm of my Administration—
Garrison, upright and honest—but he too has left me;
Left me, when I deceived him—gone are the old familiar faces!

At Shadow Lawn, where new friends swarm around me,
Earth seems a desert I am bound to traverse.
Seeking to find the friends who've left me;
But all, all are gone—the old familiar faces!

Editorial Comments

If the Democratic leader who advocates putting dyes on the free list to encourage the industry were a surgeon his method of setting a broken limb would be to amputate the patient's leg at the neck.

Optimism is what makes the Democratic party, which has fooled some of the people only three times in fifty years and has never yet fooled all of the people some of the time, think that it can now fool all of the people all of the time.

President Wilson hasn't been able to figure out yet whether he is going to be on the stump or up one.

If the paper shortage becomes much more serious the first thing we know the machinery of the State Department will be coming to an abrupt stop.

THE INCONSIDERATE BEHAVIOR OF A CANDIDATE.

Why does Mr. Hughes insist upon talking about that old fashioned, not to say "iniquitous" doctrine, the protective tariff? For nearly the whole period of its industrial existence the United States struggled along under protection. The Democratic party in 1913 came to the relief of an afflicted and burdened people.

The Republican Administration not on account of the tariff, it is true) was overthrown. Before taking over the reins of government, and for many years prior to that time, countless Democratic statesmen had vainly tried to persuade the American people that the protective tariff was an iniquity, a veritable contrivance of devils. It fostered the trusts, and it was an elevator of prices even to the thirty-seventh story and the tower. They promised relief. The poor should be no longer oppressed; the cost of living should be reduced—must be, as the sure result of a tariff for revenue—protective only in spots, such as the Louisiana sugar mills and the Carolina cotton factories.

Doesn't Mr. Hughes know what the Administration did which he is now attacking? He ought to know. The Democrats, under the leadership of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Underwood, repealed that iniquity and abomination, the Payne-Aldrich tariff law—that foster mother of trusts and high prices—and enacted in its place the present law. Mr. Hughes knows, of course, as every head of a family in America knows, that the trusts have not yet been dissolved and that the cost of living is higher than ever—that the price of everything has reached an unheard of height—but what of it?

What of it, indeed? While it is true that a protective tariff never failed under any circumstances to protect American industry and American labor, it is to be considered that the war in Europe has upset the plans of the present low tariff administration.

Now, the obvious thing for Mr. Hughes to do is to give the Democrats a chance to get their tariff on straight. Never mind the patient; let the doctor experiment. That time won't come, of course, until the war is over—according to the Democratic version. In other words, the tariff for revenue doctrine doesn't fit the conditions; the conditions must be made to fit the tariff. So why this disturbance, Mr. Hughes?

Political Jottings

The Wilson Keynote.

In his kneeling to the demands of the trainmen, in his sacrifice of the sacred principle of arbitration on the altar of peace-at-any-price, we see, in review, the whole philosophy of the Wilson theory of government and nationality.

"It is better to run than to fight."

That theory is at work in American government today for the first time.—Boston Journal.

The Wilson Waltz.

In view of recent events the following formula overheard on a hotel veranda may be of interest: The Wilson waltz, one step forward, three steps backward, hesitate, then sidestep

The Administration is depressed by the reflection that under no circumstances can it postpone election day.

Wilson insists that he will never recognize government by assassination, but he hasn't cut off relations with those who have assassinated Americans.

The first President and the first Congress that ever submitted to a hold-up.

And, by the way, nobody will ever be able to claim this was a regular Democratic Administration unless we have a bond issue before March 4, 1917.

Betting on Hughes and Wilson is dangerous both to Democrats and Republicans. In one of the New England states such a bet was made a few days ago. The officers heard of it, and they arrested the Republican on a charge of robbery and sent the Democrat to an insane asylum. Be careful.

One thing we must all admit—the President is never too proud to sidestep.

A surplus of $5,200,000 from the postal service during the fiscal year ending June 30 is reported by Postmaster-General Burleson. With the department more than paying expenses, it would seem that the executive officials could afford to keep on the payroll members of the National Guard who responded when the President called out the Organized Militia for duty on the border.

President Wilson seems to have founded his diplomacy on a rock which is off its base most of the time.

The Eastern witsmiths persist in referring to the Secretary of the Navy as Miss Josephine Daniels. No wonder the Woman's Party is camping on the trail of the Administration!

Mr. Wilson forgot to mention the pledges of economy in the 1912 platform.

"In his diplomacy," says Ollie James, "the President has sounded a new note." What, another one?

It begins to appear that that single-track mind system will have to be temporarily double-tracked. A few weeks hence, of course, it will be side-tracked.

WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN PUT RIGHTEOUSNESS BEFORE PEACE.

The supporters of Mr. Wilson say that the American people should vote for him because he has kept us out of war. It is worth while to remember that this is a claim that cannot be advanced either on behalf of Washington or of Lincoln. Neither Washington nor Lincoln kept us out of war. Americans, and the people of the world at large, now reverence the memories of these two men because, and only because, they put righteousness before peace. They abhorred war. They shunned unjust or wanton or reckless war. But they possessed that stern valor of patriotism which bade them put duty first, not safety first, which bade them accept war rather than an unrighteous and disastrous peace. There were peace-at-any-price men in the days of Washington. They were the Tories. There were peace-at-any-price men in the days of Lincoln. They were the Copperheads. The men who now with timid hearts and quavering voices praise Mr. Wilson for having kept us out of war are the spiritual heirs of the Tories of 1776 and the Copperheads of 1864. The men who followed Washington at Trenton and Yorktown and who suffered with him through the winter at Valley Forge and the men who wore the Blue under Grant and the Gray under Lee were men of valor, who sacrificed everything to serve the right as it was given them to see the right. They spurned with contemptuous indignation the counsels of the feeble and cowardly folk who in their day spoke for peace-at-any-price. — From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

Secretary Redfield converses glibly in terms of billions until it comes time to make a campaign contribution, when it is disclosed that all he really knows about mathematics is $100.

Everything has gone up under Wilson except the price of dead Americans.

Senator Jimham Lewis has purchased a new volume of "Unfamiliar Quotations" and expects to be able any day now to give us the classical derivation of "pitiless publicity" and "strict accountability" in the original Babylonan.

The average life of a Chinese is 60 years. In the United States the average is 46 years. The chief reason for this is the wonderful healing power of the Chinese curative herbs, used in China for more than 4000 years.
We import these herbs, more than 3000 in number, and as graduates of the Canton Medical College and the Medical College of Pekin and as Chinese physicians of many years of experience know just how this treatment should be given.
